POSTERS OUT Maoists plan recruitment drive in Dec

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Adilabad

In order to get foothold in the district, People's Liberation Guerilla Army (PLGA) of CPI Maoists is planning to hold a week-long celebrations in Mancherial and Kumrambheem district of Telangana and Gadchiroli district of Maharashtra from December 2. Reports claim the left wing extremists are also planning to recruit during the celebrations.

The PLGA pasted posters in Pampally village in Kotapally mandal with red colour banner on Monday night. The posters were seen in the border areas of Pranitha river. The PLGA week is being observed since 2000, from the first anniversary of killing of three members of its Central committee in the Koyyuru forest area in Karimnagar district on December 2, 1999.

Party's focus during the week is generally on recruitment but for the last few years not many people have joined the Reds.

The Maoist presence in the region almost ended with the killing of their leader Attram Shoban Alias Charles in an encounter with police in 2015. The Mancherial and Kumrambheem police have launched combing operations in this regard.

Placement season: More recruiters at IIT-H this year

85 companies expected to visit IIT-H in first phase of placements

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @Hyderabad

IIT-HYDERABAD is all set for its first phase of campus placements in which 85 companies, including several international and multinational firms are expected to participate. From last year's 70 firms that visited in the first phase, the number this year has shot up indicating recruiters' interest in employing the 424 students from IIT-H.

This shows a marked increase in the recruiters preferring IIT Hyderabad, compared to previous years.

The first phase of campus placement will commence December 3 and will conclude on December 22. The second phase begins from the first week of January 2018.

Some of the prominent companies to be present in the placement season include Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO), international companies such as Yahoo Japan, SMS DataTech, Microsoft Corporation, Goldman Sachs, telecommunications equipment firm Qualcomm, and global investment management firm DE Shaw & Co. Each company has registered around three job profiles. Around four startups have also registered for placements.

Last year (2016-17), phase I had about 70 companies visiting the campus, while the total companies in all phases were close to 130.

The recruiters are seeking students for diverse sectors ranging from Core (technical), Research and Development, Information Technology / Computer science, IT-Enabled Services, e-Commerce, Automotive/Ancillaries and Hospitals / HealthCare, Design, Finance, and Consulting.

Speaking of this year's placement season, Dr Pradeep Kumar Yemula, faculty-in-charge for Placements, IIT-H, said, "A team of dynamic student placement coordinators has been working since April 2017, preparing for placements which will culminate in the final hiring process beginning on 3rd of December 2017. This year we look forward to breaking our own previous records and building a stronger brand for the Institute among the recruiters."

On the pre-placement front, the institute has already witnessed a remarkable increase in Pre-Placement Offers (PPOs) this academic year. A total of 47 PPOs were offered to IIT-H students this year compared to 18 in the last year.

Among the firms that issued PPOs include Amazon, Qualcomm, Samsung (Delhi), Boston Scientific and WorksApp.

'Planning imperative to teaching'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Warangal

A four-week Induction Training Programme for newly recruited faculty members by Teaching Learning Centre (TLC), under the Scheme of Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya National Mission on Teachers and Teaching (PM-MNMTT) an MHRD initiative, is underway at the National Institute of Technology, Warangal.

Speaking on the occasion, NIT director NV Ramana Rao said that one of the imperatives to teaching was meticulous planning and preparation before delivering a lecture. "Teachers should be passionate about their profession," he said.

Dean Research and Consultancy, NITW K Laxma Reddy stated that Induction Training Programme has been conceptualised to provide an opportunity for teachers from various disciplines to make their teaching creative.

The one month training programme was organised for newly-recruited faculty members from engineering, humanities and social sciences disciplines. About 34 participants from across country attended the programme.

Abhangapatnam accused likely to surrender in court

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Nizamabad

AS search operations by police intensified to trace the whereabouts of Dalit victims as well as the accused in the incident at Abhangapatnam of Naveepet mandal, it is suspected that there is a chance of the accused surrendering in court in the coming few days.

Political parties are maintaining silence, and Dalit organisations have intensified their agitation for the arrest the accused and release of Dalit victims from his camp.

Sand transporter B Bharath Reddy, a native of Abhangapatnam threatened two Dalits of the village in September and a video appeared on social media two weeks ago. Considering Dalit organisations' representation, police registered a case and started an investigation following which the victims and the accused disappeared from the village. Dalit organisations alleged that the victims were kidnapped by the accused. Police officials are also expressing similar doubts.

According to police reports, the accused is regularly changing his sim cards and it has become difficult to trace his location through mobile signals. Police suspect that the accused and the victims are camping in a farmhouse in the suburbs of Hyderabad.

Hyderabad, Cybarabad and other districts police are busy in providing security to VVIPs in coming few days and it became difficult to Nizamabad police to utilise their counterparts' help to arrest the accused and release the victims from the camp.

Police came to know that the accused had filed a quash petition in High Court which will take some time to come for hearing. They suspect that he may surrender before the court along with the two victims in Hyderabad or Nizamabad.

Senior Congress leader and former minister P Sudarshan Reddy visited the victims' families and inquired the situation.

He demanded that police should arrest the accused and liberate victims from his hands immediately.

TPCC general secretary G Gangadhar, DCC president Taher Bin Hamdan also interacted with Dalit families.
